

The Anthology of the Contemporary Children's Literature of the Peoples of Russia

Programme of support of the national literatures of peoples of Russia

The publication of series of Anthologies that presents works written in national languages after 1990 was a part of the Program for the Support of National Literatures of the Peoples of the Russian Federation. The program is implemented by the Federal Agency on Media and Mass Communications under the auspices of the Organizational Committee for the support of literature, book publishing and reading in the Russian Federation. The Anthology of contemporary children's literature of the peoples of Russia is the second volume in a series of anthologies of contemporary national literatures of the peoples of Russia after the poetry volume.

Operator:

OGI
(United Humanitarian Publishers),
Moscow

With the support of:

Federal Agency on Media and Mass Communications

NatLitRF@yandex.ru
+7 495 626 24 75

The Program includes

- carrying out organizational, literary and translation activities aimed at strengthening the creative ties between writers, stimulating their writing activities and promoting their achievements;
- preparation of translations of the best examples of modern national literatures into Russian in all genres (poetry, prose, drama, journalism, popular science and children's literature) and their publication;
- compilation and publication of relevant anthologies reliably reflecting the current state of the literary process;
- targeted work with creative young people, involving them in the all-Russian literary process.

Program Goals

- to make modern national literatures the domain of a wide range of readers united by multinational Russian culture and Russian language;
- to promote the integration of original national literatures into a large all-Russian cultural process;
- promote national literatures through active work in the common cultural space;
- develop the Russian language as a language of international and intercultural communication.

The Anthology of the Contemporary Children's Literature of the Peoples of Russia

55 languages, 201 authors, 220 translators, 870 works for children, 37 illustrators in one volume. The Anthology of the Contemporary Children's Literature of the Peoples of Russia is the second book in a series of unique publications, showing the great ethnocultural diversity of our country.

The Anthology of the Contemporary Children's Literature of the Peoples of Russia includes:

- literary translations of 870 works for children and youth from 55 national languages of the Russian Federation into Russian;
- overview essays on the literary languages of the peoples of Russia and the traditions of children's literature on each of them;
- brief biobibliographic references about the authors of the anthology;
- color illustrations of the presented works.

